Foreword

I am very pleased to introduce East Dunbartonshire Health and Social Care Partnership Carers' Strategy 2019-2022. We have welcomed the Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 and are fully committed to its objectives to ensure that adult carers and young carers are supported to manage their caring responsibilities that is with timely and appropriate support to enable them to care in good health. To have a life alongside caring and for our young carers to have a childhood similar to other children in East Dunbartonshire with the same future opportunities.

East Dunbartonshire Health and Social Care Partnership is committed to delivering the best outcomes for adult carers and young carers and for the person they care for. We recognise that caring for family and friends can be a natural part of all of our lives but can be both emotionally, financially and physically challenging. We recognise the role and contribution carers make both to the person they support and within their communities within East Dunbartonshire.

The strategy is the result of more than a year of consultation and engagement with carers, carers representatives and the involvement of partners across the third sector, Education and from the Health and Care Partnership.

East Dunbartonshire Carers' Strategy 2019 establishes how we hope to achieve our aims and focuses upon six key strategic priorities and outcomes. This includes the timely provision of information and support, ensuring that carers physical, emotional and wellbeing is supported with breaks from caring for those who need this service and a focus upon our young carers.

The challenges are significant particularly when considered against current uncertainties, rising demand upon health and social care services and requirements for efficiency. However we are confident that working together in genuine partnership we can achieve what we have set out to do.

Finally, I would like to thank everyone who has given of their time to attend meetings and events and to those who have shared their experiences, and offered their expertise and commitment to improving the lives of carers in East Dunbartonshire. I would also like to thank all of our statutory and voluntary partners for their commitment and support to the implementation of the Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 within East Dunbartonshire.

East Dunbartonshire Health and Social Care Partnership

Introduction

1. Introduction

There are around seven million carers in the United Kingdom. Approximately one in ten people are carers, and three in five people will become carers at some point in their lives, with these figures expected to rise.

As of June 2017, estimations were that approximately 788,000 people in Scotland are caring for a relative, friend or neighbour. This includes 44,000 carers who are under the age of 18.

Locally the 2011 Census recorded that there are 11,347 individuals in East Dunbartonshire who identified themselves as unpaid carers.

Carers play an essential role in the provision of care, and it is estimated that, in Scotland, the value of the care provided is more than £10.8 billion each year.

This strategy describes the future development of services for carers across East Dunbartonshire.

The Health and Social Care Partnership is fully committed to delivering the best outcomes for carers and the person they care for. Our strategy has been developed in full recognition of the role and contribution of both adult and young carers in East Dunbartonshire, not only to the person they support but also within our communities.

The strategy reinforces our commitment to work collaboratively and to build upon existing initiatives and has been developed in partnership with carers, carers' representatives, Carers Link and East Dunbartonshire Health and Social Care Partnership.

Our strategy focuses upon six outcomes and strategic priorities, which have been developed from our consultations with carers and local partners including:

1. Adult and Young Carers are identified and can access information and support;
2. Adult and Young Carers are empowered and enabled to manage their caring role;
3. Adult and Young Carers are supported to promote and maintain their own physical, emotional and mental wellbeing;
4. Carers are engaged in planning and shaping services;
5. Young carers are specifically supported to have a life outside of their caring role;
6. Breaks from Caring.

The strategy sets out the key policy drivers and local context and challenges within East Dunbartonshire and outlines the consultative process taken and the specific and measurable actions we will take to implement the outcomes listed above.

Key Policies Drivers / National Policy Drivers

2. Key Policy Drivers / National Policy Context

There have been a number of key strategies and legislation over recent years, which have sought to empower and develop choice. Through Self Directed Support (SDS), people have far greater choice and control of the services they receive and the management of their support. The Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 was implemented on 1st April 2018. The legislation is designed to support carers' health and wellbeing and help make caring more sustainable.

The Act seeks to consolidate carers existing rights and recognises carers as equal partners. The Act includes duties for Local Authorities, Health, and Social Care Partnerships to provide support to carers, based on the carer's identified needs, which meet the local eligibility criteria.

The Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 has been introduced in a context of legislation and policies including:

- Public Bodies (Joint Working) (Scotland) Act 2014
- Children & Young People (Scotland) Act 2014
- Getting it Right for Every Child (GIRFEC)
- Social Care (Self Directed Support) (Scotland) Act 2013

A range of local strategies have been implemented or are under development within East Dunbartonshire and will incorporate planning for Dementia, Mental Health, Suicide Prevention, Learning Disabilities, Primary Care, Education Service Parental Engagement Strategy, and Including Every Learner; A Policy and Provision for Children and Young People with Additional Supports in East Dunbartonshire. Although the Carers Strategy has been produced as a document in its own right, there will be common themes and interlinking goals across these strategies that consider the needs of carers and outline any specialist support carers require.

Who is a 'Carer'?

3. Who is a 'Carer'?

The Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 defines a carer as “an individual who provides or intends to provide care for another individual (the ‘cared-for person’). The Act defines a “Young Carer” as someone who is under the age of 18, or over 18 but still at school and an “Adult Carer” as someone over the age of 18, and not a young carer.

Carers are people of all ages, including children, and from all walks of life. Carers are people in employment, in education, retired, or those who care full time. Care may be provided a few times a week or for more significant periods, each carer, and their role is unique. Many carers report that their role can have significant positive features and rewards but it is recognised that caring can have a significant impact upon a carer’s health, wellbeing, finance and relationships.

Young carers are young people and children and whilst many may value and enjoy the role they fulfil within their families, they may also experience much less opportunities to access social, recreational or educational opportunities and may experience greater disruption and anxiety for the person they care for.

The duty to provide support to carers is intended to ensure that it is delivered in a more consistent way across Scotland. The duty is subject to a carer having needs, which meet the local eligibility criteria, and the Health and Social Care Partnership will work with carers to provide timely support, or to help to plan ahead and consider future needs or contingency plans in response to changes in caring circumstances.

Many people who provide care may not see themselves as a ‘carer’. They are first and foremost a partner, wife, husband, son, daughter or any other family member or friend providing care.

Assessment of Demand for Support

4. Assessment of Demand for Support

Carers provide an important role in the provision of care and support in the community. As equal partners in the delivery of care, they enable people to remain in their own home and community through contributing to the overall health and wellbeing of the person they look after; preventing avoidable hospital or long-term care admission.

In the 2011 Census, 11,347 individuals in East Dunbartonshire identified themselves as unpaid carers, of which

- 10.8% of the population are carers;
- 21.9% of these carers are over 65 years;
- 1.8% of these carers are under 16 years;
- 59.5% of these carers are female;
- 21.9% are providing care for 50 hours or more per week;
- 63.5% are providing care from 1 hour to 19 hours per week.

Providing unpaid care can have a negative effect on the carer's health. The 2011 census data showed that those adults who identified themselves as carers were less likely to report their health as 'good' or 'very good' (79%) than those who provided no care (84.9%).

The Area Profile for East Dunbartonshire shows that there is an ageing population and projections suggest a near 6% increase over the next 20 years with estimates that by 2039 over 30% of the population will be aged over 65, with over 18% of our population aged 75 plus, and a significant increase in those aged over 85.

In East Dunbartonshire it is therefore important to ensure that services are provided that enable older adults to increasingly prevent and self-manage their health and wellbeing, and to remain socially connected, independent and actively engaged in their communities. The role of carers in this regard will be significant in providing care and support to older siblings, parents, friends and relatives as well as providing a vital element in adding value to other care and support services. Inevitably, this will place a great demand on carers, making it imperative that there be support services in place for carers who are contributing this vital role in looking after a rapidly increasing ageing population.

The 2014 East Dunbartonshire schools' survey reported that 8.4% of the 2907 pupils surveyed were providing care. The survey found that these young carers tended to be from deprived households, and were more likely to live within lone parent families. The young carers surveyed were more likely to report physical, emotional and behavioural conditions, as well as a higher total difficulties score than their peers, and were also less likely to think they would go on to higher education after leaving school.

East Dunbartonshire's carer support organisation 'Carers Link' actively provided a service to 1326 carers in East Dunbartonshire in 2017/18. Forty two per cent of this were aged over 65 with young carers accounting for just under eight per cent. Consistently Carers Link is contacted by almost four hundred new carers each year in East Dunbartonshire.

Achievements / Successes from previous Carers' Strategy

5. Achievements/Successes from Previous Carers' Strategy

- East Dunbartonshire Council established, and latterly East Dunbartonshire HSCP preserved a multi-disciplinary Carers Working Group/Carers Engagement Group. The membership includes HSCP, Education, Carers Link, Third sector, and carers to inform the development of Carers Services within East Dunbartonshire.
- Carers Engagement Events were completed in 2018 within both localities in East Dunbartonshire.
- Continued to involve carers in the planning of services at a strategic level through their representation on various HSCP strategic groups.
- Developed and published a local Carers Eligibility Criteria.
- Developed and published a local Short Breaks Statement.
- Developed templates for Adult Carer Support Plans and Young Carers Statements, which consider and identify carers' needs.
- Continued to increase the provision of short breaks, respite and support services for carers based on identified needs.
- Raised knowledge and awareness of carers and the Carers Act.
- Staff training and briefing sessions were arranged in 2018 and offered to all staff across social work, health, education and third sector partners.
- There was a targeted seminar about East Dunbartonshire's Young Carers Statement in 2018 delivered to all children's services. This event launched the commencement of an annual suite of staff training opportunities specifically in relation to young carers.
- Hospital Discharge Leaflet; the HSCP worked alongside the Public, Service User and Carer (PSUC) representatives group to develop a consistent approach prior to the patient/service user's point of discharge from hospital. The discharge leaflet provides local patients and carers with information covering key issues such as patient transport; valuables and belongings, medication and any follow up appointments and/or home care requirements, combining as an aid to a more seamless and cohesive discharge. Its success has been such that East Dunbartonshire HSCP were approached by NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde asking if they could stock the leaflet in their patient information centres, and requested permission to produce a regional/board wide version of the leaflet.

7. Strategic Priorities for Adult Carers and Young Carers in East Dunbartonshire

WHAT MATTERS TO CARERS:

- Raise awareness through greater publicity and information in public places, schools and across the community, particularly during National Carers Week.
- Raise awareness in health, social care and education to create a culture that provides opportunities to identify carers.
- Opportunities for people to identify themselves as carers through meaningful conversations.

WHAT WE INTEND TO DO:

- Develop mechanisms to better identify adult carers and young carers in order to meet their needs and monitor the impact of their caring role.
- Work in partnership with carers' organisations and other third sector organisations to raise awareness about the carers' legislation and rights, and develop services that support carers to continue in their caring role.
- We will work to promote and enhance awareness of support available to carers by better publicising our local carer organisations within our communities through a range of social media, websites, leaflets and carers events.
- We will continue our work with schools in East Dunbartonshire to increase identification of young carers and to highlight resources available to them.
- We will provide further training and briefing sessions which will form part of core training within schools and children's services to incorporate the identification of young carers and, where appropriate, into the Child's Planning Process.
- We will work with health and social care in East Dunbartonshire to raise awareness of carers, provide briefings on clear referral pathways, and ensure that carers are integrated into hospital discharge planning processes. This will ensure that carers are identified at an early stage and are included in any discussions about the discharge of the person they care for.
- We will fully implement future legislative timescales relating to adult carers and young carers support when caring for terminally ill persons.

- Carers among ethnic minority groups may experience additional difficulty in accessing carer services which may be attributed to language barriers in accessing these. We will therefore ensure that carers information will be made available across a range of languages.
- We will ensure that our services, carer support services and partner organisations recognise those carers with protected characteristics.

WHAT MATTERS TO CARERS:

- Being valued in their role as carers and involved in discussions with the cared for person.
- Proactive provision of information and advice to make it easier for carers to get the correct help and support when they need it.
